All participants are informed and accept, unequivocally and expressly, that their personal data will be processed and will be part of the “concurrents” file managed by ODC, the purpose of which is to collect information for security and communication with competitors. The only recipients of this data are the managers of ODC. Any participant may exercise his right of access, deletion and opposition with ODC, under the legal conditions of the application.

APPLICABLE LAW AND COMPETENT JURISDICTION

The present condition of registration and in general any contractual relationship agreed upon between ODC and any participant are governed by Andorran law. The Andorran courts will be the only ones competent in the event of any litigation relating thereto.

COLLECT INFORMATION

In the context of my participation, I agree that the Organiser may pass on my data to its subcontractors and to any authority that may request it, and that the Organiser may collect information about me, in particular by means of polls, surveys or questionnaires for the purpose of improving the services offered.

CODE OF CONDUCT

Any person taking part in the Dakar 2023 in whatever capacity commits to abide by the present Code of Conduct which reflects the values of the Rallye du Maroc.

By taking part in the Rallye du Maroc, I undertake to abide by the customs of country, its inhabitants and the sites passed through.

My behavior shall be responsible and respectful of the environment, by observing selective collecting (glass and plastic waste in yellow dustbin, organic waste in green dustbin), sensitive residues collecting (used oils to be collected in the collect point on the bivouac), cleanness of the race route (no waste left on the route even after repairs) and signage of presence of archeological sites and/or sensitive environmental zones.

I shall always favor my own safety and that of others in all circumstances, and shall adopt at any moment a proper behavior in order not to endanger persons. In this regard, should I be submitted to the Event Regulations, I certify that I read the safety rules set out therein in particular those relating to speed control and limitation and crossing of inhabited areas. I am aware that no competition state during the race shall justify my not giving absolute priority to the safety of persons.

I am aware that no competitive situation during the course of the race would justify me not giving absolute priority to the safety of people.
